Formerly Prosperous Contractor Ethardt Found It Hard to Get Work as Laborer.

Frank Erhardt, until his fallure in business two years ago a prosperous the case. He said she told him she would mently a bricklayer hired by the day, in a parace with him. was found this morning at 6 o'clock in a shanty at Seneca and Hunt's Point evenues, Bronx, with a builet in his Drunkards pile of boards on which he was stretched unconscious. Dr. Lobell of the Lebanon Hospital found that the wounded man was still alive, but said his case was hopeless. He died at 20,30 this morning. Policeman Reldy Costs Nothing To Try. 20.20 this morning. Policeman Reldy then called up the A-re-co apartments st Westchester avenue and Southern Boulevard, as a card in the man's pocket indicated that he was Erhardt and that he lived in the A-re-co.

Mrs. Ehrhardt was wakened by the telephone call. Her husband had not been at home all night, she said. Later she found lying on a desk in her husband's room a note which read: "My Darling Sweet Wife: There is nobody lave better in the world than you. Goodby, Frank."

Mrs. Ehrhardt at the hospital said that her hus and is fifty-three years old and had lost everything two years ago and latery had difficulty finding steady work. He was despondent over the reverses that had come to him to late in life.

Saved Secretly

At last, drunk no more, no more. A treatment that is tasteless and odorless, safe, absolutely so; heartily indoreed by temperance workers; can be given secretly by any lady in tea, coffee or foot; effective in its silent work—the craving for liquor relieved in thousands of cases without the drinker's knowledge, and against his will.
